

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, Jan. 5

2000

Ambassador to Romania visits Marshall Wednesday

The American ambassador to Romania, James C. Rosapepe, and his wife, Sheila A. Kast, will visit Marshall Wednesday. Following a Center overview, they will tour the Microgravity Research Program — Biotechnology facilities in Bldg. 4464 and the Payload Operations Integration Center.

Marshall Assoc. breakfast
7:30 a.m. Thurs., Bldg. 4203
cafeteria

For inclement weather closure instructions,
call 544-HELP, Option 5

Dr. Arnauld Nicogossian visits Marshall Center Wednesday

Dr. Arnauld Nicogossian, NASA's associate administrator for Life and Microgravity Sciences and Applications, will visit Marshall Wednesday. He will attend a microgravity strategic planning session, an alternative sounding rocket presentation and will view the microgravity science glovebox facility.

NASA, Marshall report no problems with Y2K transition

The Year 2000 (Y2K) transition turned up no significant problems in NASA information technology systems. Marshall Center managers cite thorough preparation as the reason for a trouble-free computer and communication systems transition during the 1999-2000 rollover.

Dial 911 to report
medical, security, chemical spill or fire emergencies at Marshall